

The Central Record.

VOLUME IX.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY LOUIS LANDRAM,
Corner Public Square and Donehile Avenue.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second Class Matter.

NUMBER 3

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL, 22, 1898.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
$1.00 per Year in Advance.

WE ARE MAKING

A SPECIALTY OF
SADDLES and HARNESS

This season, and have one of the best and most complete lines ever shown in Lancaster. We keep everything in this line and can please you in both price and quality.

Call and examine this line before purchasing elsewhere.

We also have an elegant line of LAP DUSTERS,

WHIPS, FLY NETS

To which we invite an inspection.

J. R. Haselden.

Lancaster, Ky.

Col. W. G. Welch,
Stanford.

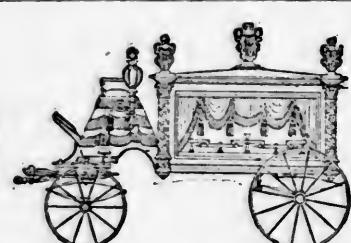

W. I. Williams,
Lancaster.

WELCH & WILLIAMS,

Attorneys at Law,

LANCASTER, KY.

All business attended to promptly.

BEAZLEY & BAUGHMAN.
UNDERTAKERS

and dealer in

Furniture, Carpets, &c.
Lancaster, Ky.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY YOUR SPRING OUTFIT.
DO NOT WAIT UNTIL OUR STOCK IS BROKEN.

Our Clothing Department

Is chock full of all the latest novelties of the season. Think of it. Men's all wool suits for $5.00 guaranteed, absolutely all Wool. Our line of mens suits at $7.50 In this lot you can pick from a grand assortment of the Nicest Fabrics and Patterns.

Cassimers, plain and fancy Cheviots, Clay Worsted & strictly all wool and tailor made in high class manner. No man can fail to get suited in this lot. We can fit all shapes and stand ready to refund your money if you can duplicate a single suit elsewhere for less than $10.00.

Our $10.00 Suits.

They are mostly from the Princes of clothing makers. Pick of all the novelties of the season. The swellest and most refined patterns, made up in the most elegant manner. Custom made suits ready to wear. It is just like finding a five dollar bill to buy one of these suits for $10.00. A complete line of Boys and Childrens Suits.

A base ball outfit given free with each suit from $2.50 up. Our shoe department is complete, everything from the cheapest to the best. Do not overlook our line of men's sample shoes at $3.00. We are head quarters on Furnishing Goods.

All the newest shades and latest patterns in neckwear. A beautiful line of gents hosiery. Everything in Suspenders. All the new styles in collars and cuffs.

SHIRTS.

We all must have them. A look through our stock will convince you that you never saw such a display in Lancaster. Prices right. Stock larger. Styles better. More kinds. Better kinds than any house in Central Kentucky. Our shirts at 50c and $1.00 are model beauties.

HATS for the world, all kinds, all styles and all prices.

Mark Well the Fact that we are head to foot outfitters, handling exclusively the best goods money can buy.

LOGAN & ROBINSON.

IN AND ABOUT LANCASTER.

County Court Monday.

Come in Monday and settle with THE RECORD.

The sale of the Owsley & Shanks lots takes place Monday.

All varieties of Landreth garden seed, in bulk, at Gaines'.

Produce taken in exchange for goods at The Logan Dry Goods Co.

Wanted, car load of Iron, Bones and Rags H. B. Northcott.

Help the band by attending the Heywood concert.

The greatest Disc Harrow on the market, at G. S. Gaines'.

Produced taken in exchange for goods at The Logan Dry Goods Co.

Suits $6.50 to $40; pants $3.50 to $10. Do you need any at these prices? J. C. Hemphill.

33 bushels of cultivated hemp seed for sale, $1 per bushel. J. X. Dunn & Co., Bryantsville.

Don't fail to see the suit that I will sell you for $5.50. It is all wool, and they fit. J. C. Hemphill.

My fine red Durham Bull will make the season of 1898 at my place one mile from Lancaster, at $2.00. Money due when services are rendered. GEO. W. EVANS.

Look To Your Interest. Best home-made buggies on the market at J. B. Ely's Paint Lick, Ky. General repairing and horseshoeing a specialty. Give us a trial. 3-183m.

Premium. Wanamaker & Brown are giving each customer from $3 to $5, in the price of suits, as the customer saves that much and gets a perfect fit. M. D. HUGHES, Agent.

Children like it, it saves their lives. We mean One minute Cough Cure, the infallible remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, and all throat and lung troubles. Stormes Drug Store.

Long Wear. Low Prices. Ask W. A. Arnold, R. S. Perrin, Joe L. Arnold and many other customers of mine and see if they say that they got of me were the best they ever had. They wear so long that they hardly remember where they bought them. M. D. HUGHES, agent.

Public Sale of Town Lots. On Monday, April 25th 1898, being county court day, we will sell by public auction on the premises four (4) lots, situated on the South East corner of Public Square, in the town of Lancaster, Ky. Terms made to suit the purchaser. Sale to begin at 2 o'clock p.m.

OWSLEY & SHANKS.

The Latest.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, 1:30 p.m.

Special to RECORD.—A bulletin says

the Spanish Government this morning gave Minister Woolord his passports before he could deliver the Presidents

Ultimatum. H. A. BARKSBURY.

Bring in a dollar for the RECORD.

Wanted, hens at 5¢ per pound. H. B. Northcott.

Help the band by attending the Heywood concert.

The greatest Disc Harrow on the market, at G. S. Gaines'.

Produced taken in exchange for goods at The Logan Dry Goods Co.

Suits $6.50 to $40; pants $3.50 to $10. Do you need any at these prices? J. C. Hemphill.

33 bushels of cultivated hemp seed for sale, $1 per bushel. J. X. Dunn & Co., Bryantsville.

Don't fail to see the suit that I will sell you for $5.50. It is all wool, and they fit. J. C. Hemphill.

My fine red Durham Bull will make the season of 1898 at my place one mile from Lancaster, at $2.00. Money due when services are rendered. GEO. W. EVANS.

Look To Your Interest. Best home-made buggies on the market at J. B. Ely's Paint Lick, Ky. General repairing and horseshoeing a specialty. Give us a trial. 3-183m.

Premium. Wanamaker & Brown are giving each customer from $3 to $5, in the price of suits, as the customer saves that much and gets a perfect fit. M. D. HUGHES, Agent.

Children like it, it saves their lives. We mean One minute Cough Cure, the infallible remedy for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe, and all throat and lung troubles. Stormes Drug Store.

Long Wear. Low Prices. Ask W. A. Arnold, R. S. Perrin, Joe L. Arnold and many other customers of mine and see if they say that they got of me were the best they ever had. They wear so long that they hardly remember where they bought them. M. D. HUGHES, agent.

Public Sale of Town Lots. On Monday, April 25th 1898, being county court day, we will sell by public auction on the premises four (4) lots, situated on the South East corner of Public Square, in the town of Lancaster, Ky. Terms made to suit the purchaser. Sale to begin at 2 o'clock p.m.

OWSLEY & SHANKS.

We print jack bills.

The Heywoods Saturday, April 30.

Wanted eggs 7¢ per dozen. H. B. Northcott.

Tube rose bulbs for sale at J. C. Thompson's.

200 bushels fancy cultivated hemp seed at G. S. Gaines'.

New stock of french lambrequin tissue paper at W. J. Romans.

Large line of fine harness cheap, at W. J. Romans Carriage Co.

Wanted, Veal Calves. Will go to country and buy. H. B. Northcott.

I would like to do your plain sewing and dyeing. Mrs. Ophelia Dunn.

Don't forget the sale of the Opera House lots Monday. They go at auction.

J. C. Thompson's.

The base ball crank now grabs the daily paper more eagerly than does the war crank.

Eggs for Hatchin.

From prize winning Black Minorcas 15 eggs for $1.00. R. L. Elkin.

For sale, a young jerry cow, with heifer calf about five weeks old. Price $30. J. X. Dunn & Co., Bryantsville.

Sam T. Evans has the largest line of buggies and phantoms ever brought to Lancaster. Save your orders for him.

Our people will entertain the delegates to the Convention in their usual hospitable way. There will be about one hundred and fifty visitors here.

My fine Jersey Bull, Garrard Signal, out of a tested dam, will stand at my farm at $2.00 the season. Money due at time of service. J. S. Robinson.

List of Claims.

The list of claims against the county, published elsewhere in THE RECORD, is the longest for several years. This is due largely to the number of guards on duty at toll gates.

Fine Trains.

The passenger trains, Nos. 4 and 5, which will be put on this road Sunday week, are among the finest on the L. & N. system. They carry Pullman sleepers and chair cars. No first class are run in Kentucky.

Many Workmen.

The L. & N. has a big force of hands on this branch of the road putting the track in good condition. Several hand cars are on the Lancaster section and it looks like business to see the gang at work.

Fine Trains.

The passenger trains, Nos. 4 and 5, which will be put on this road Sunday week, are among the finest on the L. & N. system. They carry Pullman sleepers and chair cars. No first class are run in Kentucky.

Death of Mrs. Smith.

After a protracted illness of paralysis, Mrs. Elizabeth Smith died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Molly Harden, in this city Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Smith has been a great sufferer for some time and on several occasions it was thought the end was at hand, but she rallied and improved.

Previous to the last attack she was in better health and spirits than she had been for a year or more.

Funeral services, conducted by Rev. Faulconer and Ed. Gowan, will be held at the residence this Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock after which the remains will be interred in the Lancaster Cemetery.

An extended notice of Mrs. Smith will appear in next issue of THE RECORD.

Look Before Buying.

The store room of John Joseph is now chock full of the latest creations in dress goods and ladies' furnishings.

Mr. Joseph only recently returned from the Eastern cities where he scoured the markets and picked up great bargains in goods for all the departments of his Lancaster store.

He makes a specialty of fine dress goods this season and defies competition both as to quality and prices.

His stock of hosiery corsets fine shoes, ribbons, and ladies furnishings of all kinds can not be surpassed in Central Kentucky.

Underwear, trunks, valises in great variety.

Their aim is to please their customers.

Years of experience in the business enables Mr. Joseph to buy his goods at such reasonably low figures that he can afford to sell them at lower prices.

All they ask at Joseph's store is for you to look at the goods, examine the quality and get the prices.

Then if you are not thoroughly satisfied, you are not expected to purchase.

They extend a cordial invitation to all to call at their store and take a look at the fine display.

Make it a Point

To be prepared to settle with THE RECORD when you come to town Monday.

If your name date reads "1 Apr.

"98," you owe for another year, and it will be a great lift to us if you will settle.

The price for the paper is only one dollar per year.

Event of the Season.

Alba Heywood, the Prince of Comedians, is coming. That means fun by the ton, laughs galore, beautiful music, and a delightful time all around.

The press comments tell us that Heywood is funnier than ever, that his work is all new and his company strong and well balanced.

CENTRAL RECORD

EVERY WEEK BY
LOUIS LANDRAM, Publisher.
LANCASTER, KENTUCKY.

ONE YEAR IN ADVANCE.....$1.00
TWO YEARS.....$1.50
THREE ".....$2.00

FRIDAY, April 22, - 1898.

FOR CONGRESS.

MCCREARY.—We are authorized to announce Hon. JAMES P. MCCREARY, of Madison county, a candidate for Congress in the 6th Congressional District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

THOMPSON.—We announce J. B. Thompson a candidate for re-nomination by the Democratic party for Representative in Congress from this the 6th district.

AFTER playing for reputation for a week or more, the members of both House and Senate came together Monday night at 1:30 o'clock and passed the following resolution. We will reproduce it verbatim, that our readers may draw their own conclusions as to merits or demerits. It reads: "Whereas: The abhorrent conditions which have existed for more than three years in the Island of Cuba, so near our own borders, have shocked the moral sense of the people of the United States, have been disgrace to Civilization and Civilization, culminating as they have in the destruction of a United States battleship, with 266 of its officers and crew, while on a friendly visit in the harbor of Havana, and can no longer be endured, as has been set forth by the President of the United States in his message to Congress of April 11, 1898, upon which action of Congress was invited; therefore,

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

First.—That the people of the Island of Cuba are, and of right ought to be free and independent.

Second.—That it is the duty of the United States to demand, and the Government of the United States does hereby demand, that the Government of Spain at once relinquish its authority and government in the Island of Cuba and withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters.

Third.—That the President of the United States be, and he hereby is directed and empowered to use the entire land and naval forces of the United States and to call into the actual service of the United States the militia of the United States to such extent as may be necessary to carry these resolutions into effect.

Fourth.—That the United States hereby disclaim any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over said Island, except for the pacification thereof, and assert its determination, when that is accomplished, to leave the government and control of the Island to its people.

The trouble in the House passing the Senate resolutions came up over the fourth section declaring that the people of Cuba "ARE AND OF RIGHT OUGHT TO BE FREE AND INDEPENDENT," the administration followers objecting to the recognition. It was decided to leave the matter to a conference committee from both houses, and, after hours of wrangling, the resolutions were brought in by the committee and adopted by both houses.

LATER.—The president has signed his ultimatum to Spain. He gives the Dons until tomorrow (Saturday) at noon in which to say whether or not she will withdraw her flag and forces from Cuba. In case an adverse reply comes or nothing at all is said, our army and navy will open fire on Havana. By tonight the entire U. S. army will have been mobilized in the south and Uncle Samuel will be ready for business.

STILL LATER.—The Queen Regent has announced that she will stand pat and that Spain "MUST break relations with the United States." This means that Spain will make no concessions, and that war is to follow. The order "Commerce Firing" is expected at any moment.

WHETHER war with Spain ensues or not, the Government will have to have additional revenues, is the opinion of Chairman Dingley and other Congressional leaders. War preparations and contracts which have been made will amount to considerably more than the $50,000,000 for defense recently made, and will lead to many millions of additional expenditure in subsequent years. It is believed that before the end of the week Congress will call upon to appropriate many millions for actual hostilities. The available Treasury balance of about $75,000,000 would melt away rapidly unless quickly replenished. Mr. Dingley purposes to report a war tax bill to Congress as soon as war is actually in progress. Special taxes, which are contemplated, including the doubling of the present beer and tobacco tax, duties on tea and coffee and a stamp tax in some form, will be expected to yield revenue at the rate of more than $100,000,000 a year in addition to the present revenue.

This increase will fall far short, however, of meeting the enormous increase in the expenditures of the Government and borrowing must be resorted to. To this end it is the purpose of the Committee on Ways and Means to authorize the sale of bonds to the amount of probably $50,000,000, and, in addition to these, the Secretary of the Treasury is to issue, as may be needed, certificates of indebtedness to the amount of $100,000,000.

The committee purposes to make it essentially a popular loan. The certificates of indebtedness probably will bear from 2 1/2 to 3 per cent interest and will be payable after one year from date of issue. The bonds probably will bear 3 per cent and will be redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years and will be due in 20 years. Plans are being discussed for selling the bonds and certificates through all the post offices, so as to bring them within the reach of the people everywhere.

THE RICHMOND REGISTER is getting out extra issues since the war excitement has been on. This is surely enterprise, and our hustling neighbor surely must have a bagful of dough in its safe with which to meet the great expense. Down in this neck o' the woods we have to take in washing in order to get out an issue once a week.

The war department has practically decided that its first call to arms would be 80,000 men, to be taken from the militia of the several States. There are some complications in the matter which it will take a little time to adjust and which will prevent the issuance of a call for a day or so.

DOCTOR TALMAGE declares that both Spain and Turkey ought to be wiped off the map. This may be true, but we very much fear that it will tax Uncle Samuel a great deal more than most people think to spank Spain.

STONE.

Mr. Willie Moberley is quite ill this week.

Rev. Neal, of Winchester, filled his appointment at Scott's Fork last Sunday.

We are requested to announce that Elia Bailey, who has care of the new Antioch, will preach at Scott's Fork the 5th Sunday in May.

Note Davis sold a bunch of hogs to Geo. Simpson last week, at $3.50 per hundred.

Frank Folger sold some hemp seed last week at $1.50 per bushel.

Gabe Preston sold some hemp seed to some parties of Nicholasville at $1.50, and some at $1.00.

T. L. Saunders sold sheriff J. B. Saunders 9 bushels of hemp seed at $1 per bushel.

John Carter sold a cow and calf last week at $19.

Farmers have commenced planting corn and sowing hemp in this vicinity.

In last week's issue of THE RECORD Miss Irene Raney visited her sister Mrs. Alice Hunter Tuesday of last week.

Miss Irene Raney entertained quite a number of friends Sunday.

An article headed "Steamboats to Sugar Creek," the writer stated that the steamer, Fall's City, made an excursion to this place last Sunday. There was no steamer here on that day, but there was one to come last Sunday but failed to get here. Last week's article also stated that it was the first time a steamer had reached so high up the river. This was a mistake, as we had an excursion from Sugar Creek last July on a steamer to High Bridge.

Last Sunday morning about 300 people gathered at the mouth of Sugar Creek to go down on the steamer to High Bridge, which was to leave this place at 8:30 a.m. The crowd waited until about 11 o'clock for the steamer to arrive, but the boat did not come at all, and such a crowd of disappointed and sick people you never saw. Some had come from eight to ten miles, only to be disappointed. The magnificent scenery here to High Bridge was enjoyed very much by all who took the trip.

I was reading an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the Worcester Enterprise recently, which leads me to write this. I can truthfully say I never used any remedy equal to it for colic and diarrhoea.

I have never had to use more than one or two doses to cure the worst case with myself or children.

—W. A. STROUD, Popomoke City, Md.

For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Lancaster, Ky.

HUBBLE.

Miss Katie White is better at this writing.

There have been a great many gardens planted in this section.

There was a good attendance at the McKinney church Saturday, Sunday and Sunday night, meeting was held by Rev. J. Matthews.

Mr. Dunbar was called from home for several days to the bedside of his sick mother, who passed away Friday.

Mr. Eliza Harris delivered at the crib to Mr. Arter, a lot of corn at $1.75 per barrel.

Mr. Joel Walker has been annoyed by hog thieves for some time, having lost three or four butcher hogs lately. He tracked the last one from where it was killed by the blood southward.

The county court of Lincoln bought of the turnpike company the portion of road that passed through this country on the old Danville and Lancaster pike for $1,250 last Friday.

Mr. Wm. Simpson died at his home on Hawkins' branch Monday, after a short illness of appendicitis.

Mease Price and Van Winkle are pushing forward their telephone line from Danville to this place with untiring energy, having located all the poles with the exception of half mile space.

Miss Dora Urton, of Markbury, returned home Sunday, after spending two weeks with her cousin, Miss Sase Anderson. Miss Katie Walker attended meeting. Wm. H. Hudson and son, Henry, and Will Page, of Columbia, Ky., are at Esq. G. P. Bright's, with 45 nice stock cattle.

M. L. Yocom, Cameron, Pa., says "I am a sufferer for ten years, trying all kinds of piles remedies, but without success. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve was recommended to me. I used one box. It has effected a permanent cure." As a permanent cure for piles DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve has no equal. Stormee's Drug Store.

Planters CUBAN OIL cure Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Rheumatism and Sores. Price, 25 cents

phaetons, Buggies, Surries and ROADWAGONS.

We have on our floor two carloads of the finest and most complete line of

phaetons, BUGGIES, SURRIES and ROADWAGONS

ever shown in Lancaster. Our prices are lower than can be found anywhere. Our guarantee is better. We can save you from $5 to $25.00

on any vehicle you buy.

We also have a complete line of Harness we are offering exceedingly low.

Come and see us. No trouble to show goods.

W. J. ROMANS Carriage Co., LANCASTER, KY.

ORCHARD GROVE.

Mr. Joe Hendrickson is somewhat of a shepherd; he has one hundred and fifteen lambs, and about one hundred and fifty sheep. He takes quite an interest in sheep raising.

Miss Florence Morgan, an accomplished young lady from Lexington, is teaching a select school at Orchard Grove. We are informed that she is giving general satisfaction—we do not wish to flatter her when we say that she possesses the rare talent to explain and make things so easy of comprehension that the smallest child may understand readily. We have visited her school and know wherof we speak. She certainly has chosen her place in this life, but we hear from "Madame Rumor" that she will quit the school business soon and go into "Moss Culture." Can't believe it.

Mr. Isaac Montgomery and his grand-daughter, Miss Nora Montgomery, of Lower Garrard, visited his daughter, Mrs. Ed. Naylor, Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Mat and Margaret Asher, of Lexington, were the guests of Joseph Hendrickson and wife for a few days last week. We had the pleasure of spending the evening with them Wednesday. Mrs. James Reynolds, from the old Tyre neighborhood, has come to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Jno. Parks. We are glad to welcome her among us. She is a lady of excellent Christian graces.

The farmers, the mechanic and the bicycle rider are liable to unexpected cuts and bruises. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is the best thing to keep on hand, it heals quickly and is a well known cure for piles. Stormee's Drug Store.

FLATWOOD.

Mr. Mat Siler sold his farm to Webb Fanikner, for $950, giving $350 in advance, and will give possession this week.

W. H. Furr's barn caught fire last Friday from the engine and by water was extinguished.

Mr. E. B. Scott and wife, Mr. Gec. Miller and wife, and Mr. R. S. Lawson, wife and daughter, Miss Mattie, spent Sunday at Mr. Mose Lawson's. Miss Jennie Scott and Miss Mattie Worrell, spent Saturday night at J. H. Miller's.

BLADDER Troubles.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such it is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

SAMPLE SENT FREE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. It is comforting to know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root fulfills every wish in quickly curing bladder and urinary troubles. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding or stinging pain on passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and it relieves the unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar.

You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail, upon receipt of three two-cent stamps to cover cost of postage on the bottle. Mention THE CENTRAL RECORD and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Lexington, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

32

STATE NEWS ITEMS.

FARMER ARRESTED For Selling Stolen Tobacco to a Cincinnati Warehouse.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 21.—H. L. Gibson, a prominent farmer of Shelby county, was arrested at his home Tuesday by Louisville detectives. He sold four bags of tobacco which were stolen from W. S. Matthews & Sons, of this city, to the Globe warehouse of Cincinnati. He was identified Tuesday by Ernest Schubert, shipping clerk of the Globe Co. In Cincinnati he gave his name as L. Gunther, and the check was made out in that name. Gibson deposited it in a Shelbyville bank, which led to his arrest. Charles Heifield, Gibson's brother-in-law, who worked for W. S. Matthews & Son, is missing.

L. & N.'s Big Contract.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 20.—The L. & N. railroad has closed one of the largest contracts in years for moving troops. It will carry 613 men from the Tenth cavalry, of St. Paul, 1,000 from Nebraska, 425 from St. Louis, 370 from Jeffersonville, besides the Ft. Thomas troops and a great number of animals, a large quantity of supplies and baggage.

Another Road Free.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 20.—For 18 years the people of this county have paid tribute to the Gravel Road Co., but Tuesday the papers were signed, the county agreeing to pay $90,000 in eight annual payments for the purchase of the road. Wednesday at 12 o'clock the gates were thrown open and travel is now free.

Episcopal Convocation.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 20.—The Episcopal convocation of the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky convened here Tuesday, with Rev. E. E. Reed, of Paducah, presiding. A large number of ministers and lay delegates of Western Kentucky are here. Bishop Dudley is also in attendance.

Mexican Veterans.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 20.—Gen. E. H. Hobson, president of the State Mexican Veterans' association, writes the secretary here that the annual state reunion, to be held at Harrodsburg, will not take place next month, but on September 20 next.

Five Years of Murder.

OWENSBORO, Ky., April 20.—James Alexander was Tuesday convicted of the murder of Joe Driscoll and was sentenced for five years. The killing was at a country dance, jealously being the cause. Alexander will ask for a new trial.

Narrow Escape From Death.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., April 20.—Several parties came near being cremated Tuesday morning in the dwelling of Mrs. Sarah Bible. The fire had gained much headway, and the doors had to be broken open and the occupants dragged out.

Struck in the Head.

HARRISBURG, Ky., April 20.—Walter Scarce, who landed in the Klondike some weeks ago with just $2.50, has struck it rich. He writes his mother at this place that in three weeks previous to the date of his letter he had saved $1,500.

Aged Minister Dead.

GRAYS, Ky., April 20.—After a service of 50 years in the pulpit, Rev. G. H. Foley, a Baptist minister, died at his home near here, of general debility. He leaves a wife and several children, one of them, Rev. P. F. Foley, of Madison county.

Engineer Dies of Appendicitis.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 20.—James Burnett, an L. & N. engineer, who escaped unhurt in a head on collision at Upton station a few weeks ago, in which the other engineer was killed, died Monday night of appendicitis.

War Commander.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 20.—Capt. George B. Duncan, U. S. A., son of ex-Mayor Duncan, of Lexington, wants Monday morning to command the Kentucky troops in case of war.

Violated the Revenue Law.

PRESTONSBURG, Ky., April 20.—Mary Adams, of Brannah's creek, was bound over in the United States commissioner's court for violating the revenue law.

Assets and Liabilities.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 20.—The schedule of Lawton & Co., assigned chinaware dealers, shows assets to

NOW
READY for BUSINESS.

My stock is complete and up to date, come get your hats, we can put them up in style and price to compete with any town or city.

MRS. MOODY HARDEN.
Millinery.

CENTRAL RECORD.

FRIDAY, April, 22, - 1898.

PERSONAL.

Miss Carrie Wood has returned to Paint Lick.

W. O. Rigney spent a day or two in Casey this week.

A. H. Rice has gone to Richmond, Ind. on business.

Miss Lillian Kinnaird has been visiting in Danville this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Baughman, of Danville, were visitors here this week.

Mrs. Butler Fox and children have returned from a visit to Winchester, Ky.

Elder John S. Sweeney, of Paris, is visiting the family of Mr. J. G. Sweeney.

Miss Lizzie Simpson, of Lower Gairard, has been the guest of Miss Katie Simpson.

Mrs. William O. Bradley has returned to her home in Frankfort, after a weeks visit to relatives in our city.

Adjutant General D. R. Collier was here several days this week to see his family. The general says the State Guard is in first rate shape for war.

Hugh Smith, W. G. Smith, G. R. Hardin, Mrs. Jno. Ross and son, Hugh, were called here this week to see their mother Mrs. Elizabeth Smith.

Mr. J. M. Harbison, who came out from Washington a few weeks since, has recovered sufficiently to return to his post of duty. Mr. Harbison had been quite ill for some months.

Capt. W. C. McFarland, of the army, has been ordered to New Orleans with his regiment, the 16th Inf'ty. Mrs. McFarland is in New York where their only son, Landram, is attending a medical college.

Hon. Robert Harding, of D'ville, was here Saturday looking after some law matters. His friends are doing much talk of running him for congress but Mr. Harding has not given the matter much thought. He surely has many warm friends in Garrard who will go their length for him for anything he wants.

In 1888 my wife went East and was attacked with rheumatism. She received no relief until she tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Since that time we have never been without it. We find it gives instant relief in cases of burns and scalds and is never failing for all rheumatic and neural pains—D. C. BRENT, Santa Ynez, Cal. For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Lancaster Ky. *

MCCREARY.

Eld. A. F. Cowden of Tacoma Washington, preached at Antioch Thursday evening on Home Missions. Misses Bessie and Minnie Arnold, accompanied by Mr. Paris Mahan, visited Mrs. J. B. Saunders Sunday. Miss Lizzie Tomlinson of Buena Vista, was the guest of Mrs. Jennie Broadus the latter part of last week. Miss Bertha Burnside, of your city is the pleasant guest of Mrs. A. F. Moberly. Mrs. Lou Brown and son, J. C. of Shelbyville, are visiting relatives here. Misses Nora and Flora Ray and Kelli Burton were the guests of the Misses Hardin Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burton visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mitchell, and attended preaching at Scott-Fork Sunday. Mr. Clarence Broadus, who spent the winter here and returned a few weeks ago to his home in Bell's Plain, Kansas, writes to say "There is no place like Ky."

BUENA VISTA.

Mathew Johnson left last Saturday for Illinois, where he will make his home in the future. James Smith returned home Sunday from Woodford county where he has been on business trip. Mrs. J. B. Robinson was called to the bedside of her sister in Mercer county, who is very ill. Miss Mary Perkins, who has been visiting relatives for several weeks, will return to her home in Middletown in a few days. Richard Hackley and wife visited relatives in Harrodsburg last Saturday. Mo ris Soper and pretty sister, Nora, of Perryville visited Alpha Scott and wife last Saturday and Sunday. E. J. Thaler left a few days ago for Kansas to remain about 30 days looking after the interest of his farms in that state. Mr. George Spillman, of Danville, visited his brother, James Spillman last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johnson, of Franklin county, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. F. Ison this week. Will Spillman attended court in Nicholasville Monday.

It is a great leap from the old fashioned doses of blue-mass and nauseous physics to the pleasant little pills known as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These cure constipation, sick headache and biliousness. Stormes' Drug Store.

Call at my store and we will explain how to Get One of these Roasters Free!

I now have on hand

the Best Garden Seeds in Bulk.

LANGDON'S BREAD DAILY.

NICEST

CANDIES IN THE CITY.

A. & B. Bouquet and Proctor Knott Cigars. Best in the market.

We handle only the Best Goods and strive to please.

H. M. BALLOU.

MARKSBURY.

The sick of this community are improving.

Mr. Chas. Burdette sold a nice mare 4 years old to Miss Alice Rout for $100. Sue Anna, the bright little daughter of Mr. Wm. Lear, has been quite sick with pneumonia.

Farmers take notice. Don't give any order for wire fence or fencing machines until you see L. B. Hughes, who handles the best on the market. Call on or address L. B. Hughes, Marksbury, Garrard County Ky., or leave orders with J. R. Haselden Lancaster, Kentucky. 6-24.

Mrs. J. R. Haselden and mother, of Lancaster, spent Tuesday with Mrs. A. D. Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chesnut, of Danville, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boner. Miss Kathie West, who is teaching a select school at Bettis, visited her sister, Mrs. Fred Kemper Sunday. Rev. W. M. Kuykendall returned Friday from Waddy, where he has been holding a protracted meeting. He reports the church revived. Mr. Robert Humphreys spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Boner and returned Monday to Shelbyville, accompanied by his wife, who has been spending several weeks with her parents.

Thousands of sufferers from grippe have been restored to health by one Minute Cough Cure. It quickly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe, asthma, and all throat and lung diseases. Stormes' Drug Store.

BUCKEYE.

Some of our people, and several from Madison, who went to the mouth of Sugar Creek Sunday, expecting to take a steamboat ride, were disappointed. The steamer was heard, but not seen.

The many friends of Mrs. Lackey are sorry to learn that she is not so well.

Mrs. Josiah McCully is in the infirmary at Richmond. Elba Dickerson made a business trip to Harrodsburg and Buena Vista, last week, and, of course, stopped over at a certain little village on the home stretch. Miss Elba Ray has returned from a visit to a friend in Nicholasville. Miss Hattie Jones has a nice line of millinery. Misses Nora, Myrtle, and Pattie Ray and Alex Miller, visited relatives and friends in Kirksville last week. H. B. Northcutt, of your city, was in our village Tuesday. Mrs. J. W. Brown visited her sister, Mrs. W. N. Fennell, of Kirksville, last week. Mr. E. Higgins, the queenware drummer spent Monday at this place.

Rheumatism Cured.

My wife has used Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism with great relief, and I can recommend it as a splendid liniment for rheumatism and other household use for which we have found it valuable.—W. J. CYULER, RED CREEK, N. Y.

Mr. Cuyler is one of the leading merchants of this village and one of the most prominent men in this vicinity.—W. G. Purrix, Elito Red Creek Herald. For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Lancaster Ky.

BUENA VISTA.

Mathew Johnson left last Saturday for Illinois, where he will make his home in the future. James Smith returned home Sunday from Woodford county where he has been on business trip. Mrs. J. B. Robinson was called to the bedside of her sister in Mercer county, who is very ill. Miss Mary Perkins, who has been visiting relatives for several weeks, will return to her home in Middletown in a few days. Richard Hackley and wife visited relatives in Harrodsburg last Saturday. Mo ris Soper and pretty sister, Nora, of Perryville visited Alpha Scott and wife last Saturday and Sunday. E. J. Thaler left a few days ago for Kansas to remain about 30 days looking after the interest of his farms in that state. Mr. George Spillman, of Danville, visited his brother, James Spillman last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johnson, of Franklin county, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. C. F. Ison this week. Will Spillman attended court in Nicholasville Monday.

Y. P. S. C. E. Convention.

The fourth annual convention of the Eighth District Union Y. P. S. C. E. will meet at this place in the Presbyterian church, Friday afternoon, April 22nd, to continue over Sunday. Services Sunday morning by Dr. Goodloe of Harrodsburg. On Sunday evening Rev. A. J. Arrick, of Mt. Sterling, will preach the Convention sermon. All are cordially invited to attend.

PROGRAMME.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 22.

3:30 Devotional Exercises. Leader—C. H. Ferren, President.

FRIDAY EVENING.

7:30 Devotional Service. Topic—"Soul Winning." Leader T. R. Best.

7:30 Organization.

7:40 Address—"Endeavor work: Will it produce a Deeper Spiritual Life?" Dr. W. O. Goodloe.

SATURDAY MORNING.

8:00 Devotional Service. "Source of All Power." Without me ye can do nothing." Leader—W. H. Sallee.

8:10 Two Minute Reports, and Business.

8:15 Conference on Ways of Working.

8:30 Address—"Denominational Loyalty, and Inter-denominational Fellowship." John M. Worrall, D. D.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

2:30 Song Service.

2:35 Address—"Tenth Legion." G. Claude Johnson.

2:35 Music.

2:35 Address—"Quiet Hour." Miss Sara Bow.

2:50 Singing.

2:50 Address—"Bible Study." Alec Sharp.

2:50 Junior Work. Miss Carrie Kiker.

2:55 President's Address.

SATURDAY EVENING.

6:15 Praise Service. Leader—Rev. H. Faulconer.

6:30 Address—"Municipal Pride." Rev. A. J. Arrick.

6:30 Reception.

10:30 Adjournment.

SUNDAY MORNING.

6:15 Sunrise Prayer Meeting. "Deepening the Spiritual Life." Leader—Miss Amy Goodloe.

6:30 Sunday School.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

2:35 Prayer and Praise Service. Leader—Miss Fanne Hopper.

2:35 Address—"The Pledge." J. Harry Allen.

2:35 Open Parliament. "How has God blessed us."

2:35 Address—"Stumbling Blocks." C. Christopher.

2:35 Praise Service.

2:35 Conservation Service. Leader—Miss Nannie C. Caldwell.

2:35 Convention Session. Rev. A. J. Arrick.

2:35 Mizpah.

Special Rates.

Special rates to Norfolk, Va, for the Southern Baptist convention. On account of the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention at Norfolk, Va, on May the 6th to 12th inst. The Chesapeake and Ohio Ry will sell round trip tickets to Norfolk from all stations at one fare, good going any day to one time, and good to return in fifteen days. The return limit is subject to an extension of fifteen days additional by depositing ticket with C. & O. Agent in Norfolk. Remember that the C. & O.

is several hours quicker route from all Central Kentucky points, two limited trains daily each way—scenery unsurpassed. In order that arrangements can be made for sleeper service send in your mail to the undersigned, stating what train and date you will go. Write for any information wanted. No trouble to answer questions.

G. W. BARNEY, D. P. A.

Lexington, Ky.

STANFORD.

April 19.—Dr. Tom Bohan, of Ilionville, was here yesterday and said that the recent contests in the daily papers for the shortest story of a narrow escape from death should have had an entry from this county and then told me this one of hairbreadth nature:

"The escape of Dr. James P. Riff, now of Covington, and his brother McKee Riff, was the most wonderful ever heard of, and not one word about it was printed. They had been to a party of some kind near Camp Dick Robinson, in Garrard, and were returning to Ilionville, via Milledgeville, at which latter place they have crossed the Cincinnati Southern R. R. and as it was about 3:15 a. m. they had both gone fast asleep in their buggy during their long ride. The fast cannon ball train, whirling along down grade at the rate of 60 miles an hour, was approaching the Milledgeville crossing. The crisis came. The gentle horse driven by the gentleman would scarce wait at nothing and the faithful animal, unguided, approached the track, headless of the sudden death awaiting it a moment later, and as he took the first step over the tie there was a dull thud as it were, and the poor horse was absolutely ground to pieces beneath the ponderous wheels of the flying engine and train. This was my plan: That the pikes be divided into four equal parts by miles, each magistrate superintending his own district; the court letting the contract for the metal separate from the ditching; the metal to be let from one to not more than five miles to the lowest and best bidder; the magistrates to attend to and hire men immediately in the neighborhood in which the ditching is to be done; the magistrates to hire delinquents, if possible, letting them pay their taxes in that way, saying that much to the county. That is for the ditching. The magistrates could do this at a cost for each magistrate to the county of $125 each.

Now, I contend that after the superintendent has reported to the court that we have elected an honorable man, so far as I know, but for all that we have to simply take his word or when we hear complaints coming in from the people if we do not go out and go over his work the people will say we are careless, or criminally negligent.

I, for one, do not care to be indicted for what some one else does.

Sympathetic Husbands.

Burke, Henderson, hauling 2 days..... 3 66
Clark, Sam, hauling 2 days..... 3 66
Clegg, Frank, hauling 1 day..... 1 60
Chapell, Tom, hauling 1 day..... 1 60
Carter, J. B., sec'ty lumber 42¢ feet..... 5 80 same, sec'ty lumber 25¢ feet..... 5 55
same, sec'ty lumber 12¢ feet..... 5 25
same, sec'ty lumber 27¢ feet..... 5 75
same, sec'ty lumber 21¢ feet..... 5 50
same, sec'ty lumber 18¢ feet..... 5 25
same, sec'ty lumber 15¢ feet..... 5 00
same, sec'ty lumber 12¢ feet..... 5 00
same, sec'ty lumber 9¢ feet..... 5 00
same, sec'ty lumber 6¢ feet..... 5 00
same, sec'ty lumber 3¢ feet..... 5 00
same, sec'ty lumber 1¢ feet..... 5 00
same, Com'r, hauling 6 days..... 7 20
Markee, John, Com'r..... 7 20
Marchan, W. A., judge election..... 2 60
McRoberts, R. E., sec'ty..... 4 35
Mason, W. B., sec'ty..... 6 23
Myers, I. M., sitting in court..... 6 00 same, committee work..... 5 60
Murchison, W. H., hauling 4 days.....

NOTICE

Bids will be received by County Judge E. A. Burnside for repairing and installing the following roads until Jan. 1, 1899, to-wit: The Lexington road from Lancaster to the Kentucky river. From the double toll gate on said road to Dix river; Buena Vista and New Roads; Vista and Kentucky river; Lancaster and Buckeye; Hartselle and Kincer'sville; Myra'sville and Mt. Hebrew; the Poor Bridge, Lancaster and Sugar Creek; from Lancaster to double toll-gate on Danville pike.

All metal shall be of first-class, durable lumber, approved by Fiscal court, having sufficiently fine to pass at its greatest diameter through a two-horse team. Said metal shall be furnished by the contractor, and be broken by him in a box or frame of such size and dimensions as shall be designated by the Court, and be paid for shall be measured by some person to be designated by the Court, and said metal shall be spread by the contractor under the supervision and approval of the Superintendent or other person designated by the Court.

In order to secure competition in bidding, all of said turnpikes shall be laid off in sections of about two miles, each to be numbered consecutively from the end of same nearest Lancaster, and each bidder can bid separately on metal for as many of said sections as he sees proper, but must designate the section in which his bid will be paid off in $25 cubic feet. All bids to be filed on or before Monday, May 2, 1898, at 10 o'clock a.m., and the Court will on that day determine the quantity of metal to be furnished on each road, and on each section thereof.

The Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

R. A. BURNSIDE,
Judge Garrard County Court
April 14, 1898.

A SUBLIME MARTYRDOM.

The Death on the Cross Should be Accepted by All Mankind.

The Saviour's Blood Was Shed for the World, and His Life Was Sacrificed That We Might Live—Dr. Talmage's Easter Sermon.

Dr. Talmage's text Sunday was Ille, ix, 22: "Without shedding of blood is no remission."

John G. Whittier, the last of the great school of American poets that made the last quarter of this century brilliant, asked me in the White mountains, one morning after prayers, in which I had given out Cowper's famous hymn about "The Fountain Filled With Blood," "Do you really believe there is a literal application of the blood of Christ to the soul?" My negative reply then is my negative reply now. The Bible statement agrees with all physicians, and all physiologists, and all scientists, in saying that the blood is life, and in the Christian religion it means simply that Christ's life was given for our life. Hence that all this talk of men who say the Bible story of blood is disgusting, and they don't want what they call the "slaughter house religion," only shows their incapacity or unwillingness to look through the figure of speech toward the thing signified. The blood that, on the darkest Friday the world ever saw, oozed, or trickled, or poured from the brow, and the side, and the hands, and the feet of the illustrious sufferer, back of Jerusalem, in a few hours, congealed and dried up, and forever disappeared; and if man had depended on the application of the literal blood of Christ, there would not have been a soul saved for the last 18 centuries.

In order to understand this red word of my text, we only have to exercise as much common sense in religion as we do in everything else. Pang for pang, hunger for hunger, fatigue for fatigue, tear for tear, blood for blood, life for life, we see every day illustrations. The act of substitution is no novelty, although I hear men talk as though the idea of Christ's suffering were substituted for our suffering were something abnormal, something distressingly odd, something wildly eccentric, a solitary episode in the world's history; when I could take you out into this city and before sundown point to you 500 cases of substitution and voluntary suffering of one in behalf of another.

At 1 o'clock to-morrow afternoon go among the places of business or toil, it will be no difficult thing for you to find men who, by their looks, show you that they are overworked. They are prematurely old. They are hastening rapidly toward their decease. They have gone through crisis in business that shattered their nervous system and pulled on the brain. They have a shortness of breath, and a pain in the back of the head, and at night an insomnia that alarms them. Why are they dragging at business early and late? For fun? No; it would be difficult to extract any amusement out of that exhaustion. Because they are avaricious? In many cases, no. Because their own personal expenses are lavish? Not a few hundred dollars would meet all their wants. The simple fact is, the man is enduring all that fatigue and exasperation, and wear and tear, to keep his home prosperous. There is an invisible line reaching from that store, from that bank, from that shop, from that sealing, to a quiet scene a few blocks away, and there is the secret of that business endurance. He is simply the champion of a household, for which he wins bread, and wardrobe, and education and prosperity, and in such battle 10,000 men fall. Of ten business men whom I buy nine die of overwork for others. Some sudden disease finds them with no power of resistance, and they are gone. Life for blood, substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late. She is very anxious, for she has buried three children with the same disease, and she prays and weeps, each prayer and sob ending with a kiss of the pale cheek. By dint of kindness she gets the little one through the ordeal. After it is all over, the mother is taken down, brain or nervous fever sets in, and one day she leaves the convalescent child with a mother's blessing, and goes up to join the three departed ones in the kingdom of Heaven. Life for life. Substitution!

The fact is that there are an uncounted number of mothers who, after they have navigated a large family of children through all the diseases of infancy, and got them fairly started up the flowering slope of boyhood and girlhood, have only strength enough left to die. They fade away. Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

Or perhaps a mother lingers long enough to see a son get on the wrong road, and his form of kindness becomes rough reply when she expresses anxiety about him. But she goes right on, looking carefully after his apparel, remembering his every birthday with some memento, and when he is brought home worn out with dissipation, nurses him till he gets well and starts him again, and hopes, and expects, and prays, and counsels, and suffers, until her strength gives out and she falls. She is going, and attendants, bending over her pillow, ask her if she has any message to leave, and she makes great effort to say something, but out of three or four minutes of indistinct utterings they can catch but three words: "My poor boy." The simple fact is she died for him. Life for life. Substitution!

About thirty-eight years ago there went forth from our northern and southern homes hundreds of thousands of men to do battle. All the poetry of war soon vanished and left them nothing but the terrible prose. They waded knee deep in mud. They slept in snow banks. They marched till their feet tracked the earth. They were swindled out of their honest rations and lived on meat not fit for a dog. They had jaws fractured, and eyes extinguished, and limbs shot away. Thousands of them died for water as they lay on the field the night after the battle and got it not. They were homesick, and received no message from their loved ones. They died in barns, in bushes, in ditches, and more world-resounding scale. The buzzards of the summer heat, the only attendants on their obsequies. No one but the infinite God who knew everything, knows the ten thousandth part of the length, and breadth, and depth, and height of anguish of the northern and southern battlefield. Why did these fathers leave their children and go to the front, why did these young men, postponing the marriage day, start into the probabilities of never coming back? For a principle they died. Life for life. Blood for blood, substitution!

Swift's Specific

But we must not go so far. What is that monument in the cemetery? It is to the doctors who fell in the southern epidemics. Why go? Were there not enough sick to be attended in these northern latitudes? Oh, yes; but the doctor puts a few medical books in his valise, and some vials of medicine, and leaves his patients here in the hands of other physicians, and takes the rail train. Before he gets to the infected regions he passes crowded rail trains, regular and extra, taking the flying and affrighted populations. He arrives in a city over which a great horror is brooding. He goes from couch to couch, feeling the pulse and studying symptoms, and prescribing day after day, night after night, until a fellow physician says: "Doctor, you had better go home and rest; you look miserable." But he can not rest while so many are suffering. On and on, until some morning finds him in a delirium, in which he talks of home, and then rises and says he must go and look after those patients. He is told to lie down, but he fights his attendants until he falls back, and is weaker and weaker, and dies for people with whom he had no kinship, and far away from his own family, and is hastily put away in a stranger's tomb, and only after the full part of a newspaper line tells us of his sacrifice—his name just mentioned among five. Yet he has touched the furthest height of sublimity in that three weeks of humanitarian service.

He goes straight as an arrow to the bosom of him who said: "I was sick and ye visited me." Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

In the legal profession I see the same principle of self-sacrifice. In 1846, William Freeman, a pauperized and idiotic Negro, was at Auburn, N. Y., on trial for murder. He had slain the entire Van Nest family. The foaming wrath of the community could be kept off him only by armed constables. Who would volunteer to be his counsel? No attorney wanted to sacrifice his popularity by such an ungrateful task. All were silent save one, a young lawyer with feeble voice, that could hardly be heard outside the bar, pale and thin and awkward. It was William H. Seward, who said that the prisoner was idiotic and irresponsible, and ought to be put in a asylum, rather than put to death, the heroic counsel uttering these beautiful words:

"I speak now in the hearing of people who have prejudged prisoners and condemned me for pleading in his behalf. He is a convict, a pauper, a Negro, without intellect, sense or emotion. My child with an affectionate smile disarms my care-worn face of its frown whenever I cross my threshold. The beggar in the street obliges me to give because he says, 'God bless you!' as I pass. My dog carresses me with fondness if I will, but smiles on him. My horse recognizes me when I fill his manger. What reward, what gratitude, what sympathy and affection can I expect here. There the prisoner sits. Look at him. Look at the assemblage around him. Listen to their ill-suppressed censures and execrations, to a quiet scene a few blocks away, and there is the secret of that business endurance. He is simply the champion of a household, for which he wins bread, and wardrobe, and education and prosperity, and in such battle 10,000 men fall. Of ten business men whom I buy nine die of overwork for others. Some sudden disease finds them with no power of resistance, and they are gone. Life for blood, substitution!"

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Substitution!

At 1 o'clock to-morrow morning, the hour when slumber is most uninterrupted and profound, walk amid the dwelling houses of the city. Here and there you will find a dim light, because it is a household custom to keep a subdued light burning; but most of the houses from base to top are as dark as though uninhabited.

A merciful God has sent forth the archangel of sleep, and he puts his wings over the city. But yonder is a clear light burning, and outside on a window easement a glass or pitcher containing food for a sick child; the food is set in the fresh air. This is the sixth night that mother has sat up with that sufferer. She has to the last point obeyed the physician's prescription, not giving a drop too much or too little, or a moment too soon or too late.

Some call it consumption; some call it nervous prostration; some call it intermittent or malarial indisposition; but I call it martyrdom of the domestic circle. Life for life. Blood for blood. Sub